

BEING WISE

At the beginning of our philosophy sessions we often start with a song which has these words: Philosophy means a love of wisdom. It was written a couple of years ago by another Year 3 Philosophy group.

We were wondering what it means to be wise.

- Ask a parent or caregiver to help you go onto the school website www.elmwood.school.nz, find class websites; find GATE and find Year 3 Philosophy. There is a You Tube clip for you to watch to start your thinking.
- How can you tell if someone is wise? Can anyone be wise? Is being wise the same as being clever at school?

BEING WISE

At the beginning of our philosophy sessions we often start with a song which has these words: Philosophy means a love of wisdom. It was written a couple of years ago by another Year 3 Philosophy group.

We were wondering what it means to be wise.

- Ask a parent or caregiver to help you go onto the school website www.elmwood.school.nz, find class websites; find GATE and find Year 3 Philosophy. There is a You Tube clip for you to watch to start your thinking.
- How can you tell if someone is wise? Can anyone be wise? Is being wise the same as being clever at school? What do you think?